It was chaos!
At supper Junior refused to eat his spinach (which was not unusual) and his carrots and his french fries and his roast beef (which was most unusual).
Sis had staked into her room where she moaned more than usual over her homework. Jane, that's my wife, wasn't speaking pleasantly on any subject.
I found myself disgruntled over the trend of things, particularly since everyone else in the family was disgruntled.

It was as if something momentous had happened or something super-important had been taken from our lives.

Our whole routine was destroyed. I was unable to concentrate on the evening paper. And Bootsy, that's our dog, leaped up at me from the corner of the livingroom.

"What has happened to our happy home?" thought I. What have I done?

It was the same gloomy atmosphere when I came home from work a couple of hours before. Junior was out in the yard tossing a football around in the air and Junior hates football. His sister didn't come to supper at all. And the boss, my wife, fed the dog rather than recognize my arrival.

I look back on it now and wonder why it took me more than two hours to realize the problem.

How well I remember. It was the night the TV went on the blink!

99-99-99
You may have experienced some thing similar in your household. Of course this was a "fr instance." It didn't happen to us. We are one of the last who must admit we don't have a TV.

We are the target of the punster who points with spiraling antennae and says: "He's not convinced that TV is here to stay."

It is disarming to sit in on a conversation and not be able to consider the merits of "Gun Smoke" or "Wagon Train" or "Have Gun, Will Travel." It is humiliating not to be able to cast intelligent wonder at the disappearing quiz shows.

99-99-99
Nevertheless, it is fun to visit a neighbor and break his fix on the evening's fare of television. Being among the uninitiated, we don't know any better. We are foolish enough to visit friends in the hope that we might talk to them.

But that's old hat. It's probably a partial reason why this column is written. There's no one to talk to!

Theft Suspects Last Seen In Rockdale Area

Two Fort Sill, Okla. soldiers, AWOL from the Army artillery center, escaped from the Milam County jail early Wednesday morning and were last seen in Rockdale.

Sheriff Carl Black told The Herald that Daniel Neace, formerly of Virginia, and Donald W. Smith, formerly of near Rockdale, managed the third escape in a year from the antiquated county jail sometime early Wednesday morning.

The search for the missing Oklahoma men was continuing at press time.

Sheriff Black said the men were wanted in Lawton, Okla., adjacent to Fort Sill, on charges of theft of an automobile.

Picked Up Tuesday
The Milam County law officer picked up the duo Tuesday following discovery of an abandoned 1947 Cadillac coupe on Tracy Road near Rockdale. He said they were jailed on suspicion upon disclosure that the pair was wanted in Lawton on suspicion of auto theft.

Black said the Cadillac's tires had been punctured and windows had been smashed.

Neace and Smith are believed to have escaped in a 1954 Ford reported missing Wednesday morning from the apartment house owned by Mrs. Anne Henriksen, Black said.

Sheriff Black also said a Rockdale source reported the escapees had changed clothes in Rockdale early Wednesday.

Sheriff's office officials had learned that the duo was wanted in Oklahoma after contacting authorities there by radio.

Held For Military
At the time of confinement, the pair was being held for military authorities, Sheriff Black said.

Sheriff Black said a state-wide alarm is out for the arrest of the two men.

He noted that the Ford believed to have been taken by Neace and Smith is a four-door sedan with white top and green bottom with license tags, TR 886.

It was the third escape from the Milam County Jail in a year. Sheriff Black apprehended Clair Vernon Huddleston, 23, and Paul McKenzie, 29, twice after the convicted burglars broke out in late February and mid-March.

They were both sentenced to terms in the state prison following pleas of guilty to burglary charges.

Marine Sergeant Shows Tradition In 'Dress Blues'

Mr. Average Citizen is fairly well-informed about the Marine Corps being America's "Force-In-Readiness," but according to Marine Master Sergeant Frank Bukowsky, local recruiter, such mystery surrounds the famed "Dress Blue" uniform which the sergeant has now donned for winter.

"Although attracting attention wherever seen, the Marine dress uniform doesn't conform to conventional, modern styles because it is so steeped in tradition," said Sergeant Bukowsky.

The sergeant pointed out that the red trouser-stripe, worn by Marine Officer and non-coms, commemorates the blood of commissioned and noncommissioned officers who lost their lives in the battle of Chapultepec in the Mexican War of 1842.

He also said the high collar, which looks very uncomfortable, but actually isn't, is a holdover from sword fighting days.

"When Marines were fighting hand-to-hand on the decks of sailing vessels," related the sergeant, "the high collar was of hard, heavy leather, padded for comfort, and served to ward off fatal sword thrusts at the jugular vein. It was from this leather collar that Marines earned the title of 'Leatherneck'."

"And believe me," added Sergeant Bukowsky, "we are proud of the Marine Corps Dress Blues and wouldn't change them for the world!"

Sergeant Bukowsky, will visit Cameron Friday November 7 from 9 a.m. to 11:30 a.m. at which time he will answer questions and interview prospective applicants for the Marine Corps.

Tiger Penetrations Win Match As Belton Deadlocks Yoe, 0-0

Defensive Play Sparkles In Game Drawing 2,500 Homecoming Crowd

The Cameron Yoemen held a strong Belton defensive club to a 0-0 tie, but lost the 18-AA district headliner on penetrations 2-1 Friday night before a packed Homecoming crowd.

Defensive play highlighted the crucial tilt that all but decided the winner of the 18-AA crown as both forward walls staunchly drove deep in scoring territory.

Belton's decisive penetration came on a 29-yard pass from quarterback Buster Surghnor to halfback Jimmy Wilbanks, going to the Cameron 8. An earlier penetration on a 15-yard penalty to the Cameron 12 gave the Tigers the edge.

Lineplay Jarring
Both drives were halted by jarring lineplay. Following the Wilbanks-Surghnor pass, the Yoemen held four consecutive downs to gain possession at the Yoe 13 one play before the half ended.

The first penetration died when the Yoe line pushed Belton back 19 yards.

Cameron's single penetration in the third quarter followed an exchange of punts and an interception by Archie Mraz.

Halfback John Wayne Josey dashed 19 yards around left end and Mraz and Dodson carried to Belton 11. Three downs failed to net any yardage and Josey's field goal attempt was marred by a fumble, giving the ball over to Belton at the Tiger 33.

Belton also gained the advantage in first downs with 8 to 4 to assure the win under Interscholastic League rules.

During halftime ceremonies, the four Yoe High School classes presented their queen candidates and floats before Miss Kay Pernice, junior candidate, was named 1953 Homecoming Queen.

Quarterback Jesse Kirk and Belton's Nick Moore provided a good exhibition of kicking with Kirk booting 9 for a 36-yard average and Moore 9 for a 31-yard net. Kirk booted 52 yards and 48 yards for the outstanding kicks of the game.

Two Plays Close
The Yoe Field crowd of 2,500 saw two Yoe scoring opportunities barely miss on the same series of downs at the Belton 31.

On a first down play opening the second quarter, fullback Allen Dodson broke over left tackle, then forward lateraled to Josey who went into the end zone standing up. Officials called the play back.

And on a fourth down pass end George Zarosky narrowly missed a TD pass from Kirk.

Belton kicked off to the Yoemen, but three plays failed to make necessary yardage and Kirk kicked to the Belton 24. Owens gained 1, then Surghnor broke for 30 on a keeper out.

At the Cameron 15, Yoemen backs met strong Tiger defense, forcing Kirk to kick. Surghnor's 6-yard gain and a 15-yard penalty gave Belton its first penetration to the Yoe 12.

But the stout Yoe defense and a 31 where Moore again kicked.

Kirk Kicks 52
Cameron was unable to move with the ball from the YHS 3 and Kirk booted out 52 yards to the Belton 29 where two plays later Mraz fumbled to Cameron at the Belton 33.

Belton held on the next series of downs then lost the ball on downs to Cameron. Kirk hit Zarosky for 23 yards to the Belton 31.

Then the Dodson-Josey TD play was called back and Cameron lost the ball on downs.

Wilbanks and Owens alternated for two first downs before Moore kicked out at midfield. Kirk booted back to Belton on third down.

Again Belton was unable to move and kicked. But Kirk booted back after three consecutive 3-yard plunges by Dodson, Kirk and Josey.

At the Cameron 41, Owens gained 5 before Wilbanks took Surghnor's pass for 29 yards and Belton's second penetration to the Yoe 8.

Yoemen Halt Drive
The Yoe defense led by Raymond and Johnny Tepera, Zarosky, Ronald Brashear and Joe Humplik held Belton on four consecutive plays, taking the ball on the Cameron 13. The half ended 0-0.

Belton opened the second half with a first down pass from Surghnor to end Richard Inman good for 32 yards. But Mraz hauled in a Surghnor pass to stop the drive.

Cameron was unable to break the Belton defense led by 195-pound Bernard Bartek and Kirk booted 48 to the Belton 4. Moore kicked off for Belton on third down to his 44.

Mraz dove for 4 and Josey skirted end for 19 to the Belton 21. Dodson gained 3, then Mraz 8 and Kirk 1 for a first at the Belton 11.

Mraz was thrown for a 6-yard loss and Josey regained 6 before the field goal attempt was squashed by Belton.

Wilbanks raced 19 yards for a first down to the Cameron 49. But the Tigers faltered, kicking to the Yoe 20.

The determined Belton line forced Kirk to kick on fourth. Wilbanks gained 4 before Surghnor fumbled to Cameron at the 47.

Neither team gained in an exchange of downs and punts. Cameron again took possession on the 44 before Kirk booted again downfield and Cameron recovered the fumbled punt at the Belton 43.

Belton took the ball on downs before kicking again to the Cameron 20. Josey dashed 12 yards to the 32. Three Yoe passes fell incomplete and Belton ran out the clock to the Cameron 24. Cameron 0, Belton 0.

Cameron - Belton Clash Leads 18 - AA Action

Football fans at Yoe High Field Friday night were probably treated to the finest football action in 18-AA football this year, as the districts two strongest teams, the Cameron Yoemen and Belton "Big Red" Tigers battled to a 0-0 tie.

In the only other district tilt Rosebud stomped Rogers 48-12.

Despite the 0-0 score the game will go down in the record books as a big win for Belton, and a big loss for the Yoemen of Cameron.

"Big Red" won over the Yoemen in penetrations 2-1. The first penetration appeared midway through the first quarter on a 15 yard penalty against the Yoemen moving the ball to the Cameron 11.

The second Cameron heartbreak took place right before the first half ended when a Belton pass took the ball to the Cameron 8.

The closest drive was made when Ken Owens carried to the Yoemen 6.

In Rosebud the panther fans were pleased as the home town boys won their opener over Rogers 48-12.

Larry Tucker made the longest run of the game, a 90 yard touchdown runback of the kickoff as a starter for the cold-hearted Black Panthers.

Hearne had an open date as each district team will before the district games are over. Cameron's open date is November 7, the week before the final game of the year with Hearne.

Faster, Easier Rolls With Modern Recipes

With modern methods and today's food products, yeast breads and rolls can now be made in less than half the traditional time. One of the leading food companies has developed a recipe for combining biscuit mix, active dry yeast and water to make wonderful light, springy dough. It has to be kneaded only 20 times and rising time is about one hour.

To make rolls, dissolve 1 package active dry yeast in ¾ cup warm water (not hot - 105 to 115 degrees F.) Mix in 2½ cups biscuit mix. Beat vigorously. Turn dough onto pastry cloth or board and dusted with biscuit mix. Knead until smooth, about 20 times. Shape as desired. Place on lightly greased baking sheet. Cover with damp cloth. Let rise in warm place (85 degrees F.) about 1 hour. Bake 10 to 15 minutes in moderately hot gas oven (400 degrees F.) Brush with butter or margarine after baking. Makes approximately 16.

Onion rolls are a flavorful treat with hamburgers and hot dogs. Use ¾ cup warm water, 1 package active dry yeast, 2-2.3 cups biscuit mix and ½ cup finely chopped onion. Put them together as regular rolls adding the onion with the biscuit mix. Roll the dough into a rectangle about ¾ inch thick. For hot dog rolls, cut the dough into oblongs. For hamburgers, cut the dough into large circles with on a lightly greased baking sheet and brush the top with milk. Let rise in warm place (85 degrees F.) about 1 hour. Bake in moderately hot gas oven (400 degrees F.) 15 to 20 minutes depending on size and shape of rolls. Brush with butter or margarine after baking. Makes approximately 10. The onion may add moisture to the dough, so if necessary to keep dough from being sticky, add a little more biscuit mix when dough is kneaded.

Marmalade rolls are golden with goodness. Place ½ teaspoon soft butter and ½ teaspoon marmalade in each of 12 greased muffin cups. Dissolve 1 package active dry yeast in ¾ cup warm water (not hot - 105 degrees to 115 degrees F.) Add 1 egg, 1 tablespoon sugar, 2½ cups biscuit mix. Beat vigorously. Turn onto pastry cloth or board well dusted with biscuit mix. Knead until smooth, about 20 times. Roll into rectangle about 16 by 9 inches. Spread with 2 tablespoons butter or margarine and 1-3 to ½ cup thick fruit marmalade. (Amount will depend on thickness of marmalade.) Roll up tightly beginning at long side. Seal well by pinching edge of dough into roll. Cut into 12 slices. Place rolls, cut side up, in muffin cups. Cover with damp cloth. Let rise in warm place (85 degrees F.) about 45 minutes. Bake in moderately hot gas oven (400 degrees F.) about 15 minutes.

Soufflé And Soup For Supper

New-method soufflés are simple enough for the most inexperienced cook, and hearty enough for the hungriest he-man. A perfect soufflé can be made in an everyday pie plate... it owes its ease of preparation and airiness of texture to the cup of evaporated milk in the ingredient list. The evaporated milk eliminates the need for a white sauce, and even the cheese is sliced right into the milk mixture, without any previous grating. The only unbreakable rule is that a soufflé waits for no man, so better a hungry brood clamoring at the dinner table, than a crestfallen soufflé that's been kept a-waiting. Proceed a cheese soufflé fallen soufflé that's been kept a-waiting. Proceed a cheese soufflé topped by a piquant asparagus sauce with soup on the rocks.

Cheese Soufflé Pie
1 cup evaporated milk ½ teaspoon monosodium glutamate
3 tablespoons all-purpose flour ¼ pound cheddar cheese or process American cheese
¼ teaspoon salt 3 eggs, separated
¼ teaspoon dry mustard 3 eggs, separated
Four evaporated milk into top of double boiler. Add flour, salt, dry mustard and monosodium glutamate; beat with rotary beater until smooth. Place over boiling water and beat until slightly thickened, about 5 minutes. Slice cheese into milk mixture and stir occasionally with rotary beater until thickened and cheese has melted. Beat until smooth. Remove from heat. Add egg yolks, one at a time, beating after each addition. (Wash beater thoroughly. Any trace of fat will prevent egg whites from whipping.) Beat egg whites until stiff, but not dry. Gradually fold in cheese mixture. Bake in a slow oven (325° F.) 30 minutes. Serve immediately. YIELD: 4 servings.

Bit 'O Spring Sauce
1 can (10½ ounces) condensed cream of asparagus soup 1/16 teaspoon thyme
¼ cup evaporated milk 2 teaspoons lemon juice
Blend together soup and evaporated milk in saucepan; add thyme. Heat to serving temperature. Stir in lemon juice. Turn into serving dish; if desired, garnish with chopped hard cooked egg. YIELD: Approximately 1½ cups

Vocational Education Importance Stressed At Teachers Workshop

"We don't want our schools to lose their valuable vocational education programs", C. A. Browning, an official of the State Department of Education, asserted at the opening session of a 5-day training workshop for vocational homemaking teachers attended by Mrs. Imogene Whately and Mrs. Patsy Edmonds in Dallas.

Speaking to some 900 vocational homemaking teachers, Browning declared that the department has kept close check on the impact of the increasing emphasis on mathematics and sciences in the high schools. The State Department has made one change to counteract the effect; they have changed graduation requirements so that two years of vocational training can be accepted toward a high school diploma in place of one year of general science. This does not affect the requirement for a year of other sciences such as physics or chemistry, he pointed out.

Students in homemaking learn to use the scientific approach—getting all facts and evaluating them carefully before reaching a decision—in solving all their problems of family living. It was pointed out that homemaking teachers need to do more action research to learn more about the kinds of lives families are living today, and the impact that technological changes and frequent moves are making in their ways of life and attitudes.

Dr. Bernice Moore of the Hogg Foundation, University of Texas, reported on a study of Texas families that she is making. She said that in Texas, the trend toward earlier marriages is continuing as is the high birthrate; the trend toward urbanization is undeniable, even for farm families; both parents are working so that children may have schooling and proper medical care; and incomes are being carefully budgeted in advance. "Cash goes only for the new baby and food". She concluded that more than 50 per cent of the girls graduating last spring will be married within a year, thus placing an increased value on home and family living education in Texas high schools.

According to Miss Ruth Huey, director of home and family education for the state department of education, Austin, "There always will be families, but the kind of family life has changed and will change in many ways. Each homemaking teacher must keep in touch with these changes, must study the families with whom she works, and must adjust her teaching accordingly."

Milam Grain Co. Ups Capacity By 275,000 Pounds Per Hour

Milam Grain Co. about doubled its maize intake during the 1958 grain season with increased unloading facilities at 201 Cedar St., Cameron.

Manager C. O. Angell says that Milam Grain Co., now in its second year of operation has increased unloading capacity by 275,000 pounds per hour.

"This means that there will be much quicker unloading when farmers bring in their grain for storage," Angell says.

The increased size is possible through enlargement of unloading facilities used last summer from 75,000 pounds-per-hour capacity to 150,000 pounds per hour, he points out.

"And we have added a new unloading facility that will handle 200,000 pounds of maize an hour by itself," Angell notes.

375,000 Pounds An Hour

Combined unloading facilities of the Milam Grain Co. then will be able to handle 375,000 pounds an hour compared to 75,000 pounds an hour in 1957.

Additional storage space also is available after expansion work in the storage buildings to hold 200 cars of maize, about 80 cars beyond last year's capacity, he emphasizes.

Angell says that a grain unloading tower has been added as part of the improvements.

"We plan to have additional storage facilities elsewhere when the maize harvest starts," the Milam Grain Co. manager notes.

"We believe these improvements at Milam Grain Co. will make our operation the best 1958 storage market in the area," he continues.

Officers of Milam Grain Co. are Perry Holder, president; Angell, vice-president; Robert M. Clark, secretary-treasurer; and H. L. Yager, member of the board of directors along with the other officers.

Office staff at Milam Grain Co. includes Mrs. Albert Glaser and Mrs. Dean White.

Old Batte Mill

The Milam Grain Co. buildings were once the old Batte Oil Mill which was re-opened for grain storage last summer.

Milam Grain Co. handled a total of 185 carloads of maize in the first year of operation, buying 60 cars of maize for the open market and storing about 125 carloads.

"We know that our improvements will mean better service during the 1958 maize crop and much greater convenience to farmers wanting to store their grain in the Milam County area," Angell concludes.

TELEPHONE
TALK
by C. L. Carson, Manager

IDEAS FOR '59
One of the biggest "brainstorm" sessions of the year now is being conducted by Southwestern Bell Telephone Company.

The 27 telephone men and women here in Cameron, along with all other telephone employees, are participating in "Ideas for '59," a program to encourage new ways to improve telephone service and our business operations.

All telephone men and women are attending "ideas" meetings to offer their suggestions on new and better ways to do their jobs and run the business, whether it is a suggestion for saving paper clips or a better way to design telephone equipment and buildings.

All ideas will be examined by top officials of the company, and suggestions which are accepted will be included in our company's program for next year.

But telephone people who make good suggestions won't necessarily have to wait until next year to see them put into effect. Good ideas with local application, which will help us provide better service or do our jobs better or more economically, will be put into effect IMMEDIATELY.

The company has always encouraged new ideas from employees, but the "Ideas for '59" program provides a system for insuring that all suggestions will be considered and the people making them will get full recognition.

The end result? Better telephone service, constantly improving through the years, for you and all our customers.

FOR HUSBANDS ONLY

I suspect some wives will sneak a peek at this simply because it says, "For Husbands Only." But just this once I'd like to have a man-to-man talk with all husbands.

About this time of year - halfway between summer vacations and Christmas - things settle down and your wife is probably doing a bit of dreaming.
Maybe it's that trip you've always planned to take,
or a new house, or even a sports car.

Dreaming's fine but it usually takes a lot of years to make a big dream come true. However, little dreams take less time. In fact, just a minute or two.

So here's my hint for husbands. Order an extension phone in color for the bedroom. I'll guarantee that it will perk up your wife's morale like a new hair-do or a new hat. Even better, it will make a hero out of you.

Just call the telephone business office today. A service representative will help you pick the right color.

IT'S REAL FAMILY FUN

Sunday is a real family day.
Many of us have our families around us, and we enjoy the day going to church, relaxing, chatting, just doing things together.

However, some people have members of their families living away from home - either away at college or married sons or daughters living in another part of the country.

There's really no reason to leave them out of the happy Sunday get-togethers. Just pick up the telephone and make a long distance call. That way, Sunday is fun for everyone in the family.

Why not this Sunday? You'll surprise the "out-of-towners" and have a lot of fun on your end of the line, too.

Call by number. It's twice as fast.

What more fitting way to end this column than to repeat "A Fisherman's Prayer" which appeared originally in North Carolina's "Wildlife" magazine:

God grant that I may live to fish until my dying day.

And when it comes to my last cast, I then most humbly pray,

When in the Lord's safe landing net, I'm peacefully asleep,

That in His mercy I be judged, as good enough to keep.

Tips On 'Reading A River'

By Vern Sanford

It is said that the difference between an expert fisherman and an also-ran lies in one's ability to "read" a river, stream or lake.

This because there definitely are certain choice spots—and he who finds them lands the lunkers.

Learn where the fish lie. That's the secret, say the pros. "And the time to do the learning is when fishing is at its worst."

For instance, when a stream or river is very low and clear, bottom obstructions, rocks, ledges, deep runs and pool areas become evident. Make a mental note of these physical features.

In many instances, by using polaroid glasses you actually can spot the fish, and locate weed beds and drop-off areas where fish gather.

There are two other "handies." A thermometer and a waterscope. A thermometer helps locate spring holes. The water scope, a tube with glass in one end, also is used to determine weed-bed areas and drop-offs.

A word to the wise...time taken in charting the favorite stream or river really pays off in better fishing later on.

'Tis said that he who fishes "upstream" catches more and larger fish.

By upstream we mean "across and up."

Dry fly fishermen use this method successfully. Why wouldn't it work with other fishermen? Some say it does. They suggest a high rod and a constant retrieve in order to maintain a tight line. Also they point out that spinners, wobblers, small plugs and nymphs pay off in larger fish than do floating lures.

Learn your water and fish upstream for more and bigger fish, they re-emphasize.

No matter how shallow the water, there is ample concealment in weed beds or lily pads, says one tipster. He adds: Often fish lurk quite far back and do not see lures cast at the edge of weed beds or pads. In such instances a silent cast is not effective. Don't be afraid to let your lure drop with a loud splash.

There always is danger of a hang-up. That's when a heavier leader line comes in handy. There is no reason for not attaching a leader to a spinning line—just so long as it is short enough not to enter the spool. It sure does add a safety factor...and makes it a little easier to change lures.

It's well to know the depth of the water in which you are fishing. Next time you fish in deep water let your lure down alongside the boat and count slowly until it reaches the bottom. Then when you cast out, start your count when the lure hits the water. Allow the lure to sink freely. But start your retrieve with a short, hard, hook-setting motion the moment your punt indicates bottom depth. Many times the lure is picked up by a curious fish on its downward float and he may still have it in his mouth.

Monofilament Line

As spin-fishing grows increasingly popular the use of monofilament line becomes more general. It is true that monofilament offers many advantages. But there are disadvantages too. Perhaps we should say "handicaps."

A knot points up its biggest weakness. In fact if you want to break monofilament line at a specific place, just tie a knot there and jerk. The line will break at that exact spot.

This brings up these two facts:

1. When you find a knot in your monofilament line, either untie it (which is almost impossible) or break the line, then and there. Otherwise some lunker will do the job for you...and you will lose a nice catch.

2. When you tie monofilament to a swivel (or direct to a lure) follow this tie-down tip and you will avoid use of a line-breaking knot.

First, run the end of the line through the eye of the swivel. Next, pull through about eight inches of line. Then, instead of tying a knot as you would with braided line, wrap the short length of line around the line proper—seven or eight times. Now comes the important part—run the end of the line through the loop that formed immediately above the eye of the swivel. All that's left to do is to pull slowly but firmly on the line itself and the wrapped-around portion will slide down the line to the swivel to form a vise-like grip.

Just be sure you pull the line tight and hard, and check to see that the swivel is firmly attached. If you have not pulled hard, then the end of the line may slip back through the loop. In that event you will have to repeat the entire operation. Until you learn the trick you may have to hold the tag end of the line to keep it from slipping through. However, after a few trials you'll find this tying method can be performed quickly. Also you'll discover that this is the safest and surest way to tie on a swivel or lure. Actually it's known as the clincher knot.

Finally, if you want to be doubly sure that the end of the line doesn't slip through—just strike a match and burn the tip of the line lightly. The monofilament will burn until a small but hard ball forms. This ball, on the end of the line, will keep the end from slipping through the loop. So, by burning the excess line you not only make a neater job, but a stronger one too.

A word of warning. Don't let any of the burning monofilament drip on your hands or clothes. It's hot as a poker!

Lucille Terry (shown above), granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gibb Terry of Cameron, was recently elected Sweetheart of the Calvert FFA Chapter. A senior at Calvert High School, she is also Drum Major of the CHS Band, editor of the school paper and currently holds the title of "Miss Calvert High School."

SW Conference Sports

Tom Murray's Column

SOUTHWEST CONFERENCE members may possess their greatest store of football talent ever, despite a scandalous intersectional record. Since most of the foreigners have blacked eyes and left, it will never be proved this year.

To get an insight into why the outsiders have whaled the daylights out of the homefolks, count seniors around the conference. Nary a team unloads, as the football coaches say.

TCU, probably deeper than ever in its history, is a sophomore-junior team. So is SMU, where Junior Don Meredith may be the greatest collegiate passer of all time.

horns are playing only three seniors on the first two units and not a single senior backfield performer is to be found in school. Baylor, with a sprinkling of fourth-year men, nevertheless, must depend on juniors and sophs as do Rice and the Texas Aggies.

Truth is, the Southwest Conference is not shy of talent, only experience. With Texas High Schools producing as never before, the Cactus and Salt Grass loop will certainly be consistently one of the nations toughest.

Aiding and abetting Texas' reputation, the University of Houston has at long last become the monster its backers have been predicting it would be the last 10 years. The Cougars are among the nations outstanding teams and possess one of the better coaches.

Like its SWC brethren, Houston is loaded with youngsters. Hold your breath and bring on the furriners.

IT IS amusing that one particular Houston sports writer has suddenly "discovered" Franklin (Bubba) McLean, the smooth Texas Aggie running back. All Bubba did to become famous, was lead Deer Park to two straight state championships, twice make all-state then become one of the Nation's outstanding junior college running backs for Floyd Wagstaff's Tyler in the state only two years and showing it, this fellow not only warns McLean will surprise, but writes he did his JC footballing at Arlington State. Nothing like being on the ball...McLean signed a University of Texas letter-of-intent upon graduation, but lacked required entrance qualification...Port

Neches Fullback Gordon LeBouef, and not Charlie Miltstead, may be the key to the current Texas Aggies. Should the powerful ex-Indian play up to par, the Cadets could be double-tough...Keep the lamps peeled for Max Webb, Navasota's 172-pound package of running talent, on lend-lease to Jess Neely's Rice Owls.... Jess, one of the country's shrewd grid bosses, may not know there has been dissension on the current Owl squad, involving Larry Dueitt, the cocky Corpus Christi Junior. "He thinks there is nobody in the world who can run with the ball but himself," grumbled a teammate...Delano Zwhar, tough Rice end out of Needville, will probably be a Rice starter next fall. He's currently sidelined with an injury....Dobie Craig, El Campo's most gifted graduate since Glenn Lippman, could have made Baylor double-tough this fall. The 200-pound speedster came a cropper with the books....James Carroll, "T", Jones, Texas' Frosh Backfield Coach: "I shudder to think what Darrell Royal could have done with out 1950 team!" That was the Longhorn group that finished No. 2 in the nation, losing only to Oklahoma, the nation's top-ranked outfit, 14-13. From that Texas team came, believe it or not, six All-America performers—Guards Bud McFadin and Harley Sewell, End Tom Stohlanske, Fullback Byron Townsend, Defensive Halfback Bobby Dillon and Line-backer Don Menasco. Yet, the 1152 Longhorn quarterback, is rated by many the greatest in the school's history....Folks in north and west Texas are finding out what the Gulf Coast fan already knew that Pasadena's Bert Coan may be the greatest running back ever to ma-triculate at a SWC school. TCU would not trade the 6-4, 190-pounder for anybody, including SMU's Glenn Gregory and Don Meredith.

The tire and tube industry in 1957 increased its investment in newspaper advertising in 1957 than in the previous year.

U. S. Upswing Helps Milam

The nation's economy seems to be headed for a peak in the fourth quarter of the year as employment increases and productivity reaches for the $450 billion mark.

In response to the rebounding U. S. economy, Alcoa's Point Comfort plant has reopened a potline. Reported both by Alcoa officers and the Wall Street Journal, the news would indicate the aluminum supply is being depleted by renewed demand.

This news is of general import to Milam County, now the center of the aluminum industry in Texas. The Rockdale plant's two shutdown lines may be the next to resume production.

Texas and Milam County generally have not suffered from the effects of setbacks in eastern and mid-west industry.

But the effects of that late-1957 decline were in evidence in Milam County, more in buying attitudes than in cash shortages. Bank deposits reached record proportions in the fall and winter of 1957-58 in county banks and continue to hold at high levels, particularly in savings deposits.

Of course the February Alcoa cutback showed direct influence of national economic climate. Yet Cameron's Walled Lake Door Co. held production and increased work loads for the 50 factory employees.

Now we find that production, jobs and consumer dollars are on the increase across the nation. It is no wonder. With U. S. population estimates hitting 175 millions, national production figures cannot go anywhere but up.

The key to the nation's resounding economic upswing and to Milam County's stability has been confidence. If the U. S. consumer had totally stopped his purchases, the recession would have extended many more months. But confidence ranging from top financial and business leaders to John Q. Consumer has directed us toward new records.

Milam County's confidence in a diversified economy has been important to an optimistic state of mind. Taking spending slowdowns with strong maize and cattle production, Milam County has forded the intermittent flow of Milam spending with realistic optimism.

And with a national upturn to add zest to stability, Milam County can join in the general upswing of prosperity blossoming across the land.

THE LITTLE RIVER PHILOSOPHER

Sage Worried Over Contaminating Moon
With Radiation, Germs, Johnson Grass

Dear editor:

In all this excitement over trying to get a rocket to the moon, most people seem to be concentrating on the sheer fact of getting one there, while some of us deeper thinkers have been concerned on other aspects of the matter. There's no point in rushing into space or a farming year without first doing some heavy thinking.

I read the other day where a scientist is deeply concerned about man's contaminating the moon with radiation and possibly disease germs, and he wants the explorers to go easy on this. Maybe circle the moon, but don't land.

I don't know anything about germs, except they're the biggest friend a doctor has in explaining some forms of virus sickness he can't explain otherwise, but germs aren't the only thing we ought to be worrying about when it comes to contaminating the moon or any of the other planets.

Take Johnson grass. The last thing man wants to do, if he's planning on colonizing the moon, is get Johnson grass started up there, not to mention all sorts of weeds, mosquitoes, ants, chiggers, wasps, motor scooters, etc.

Also, some scientists are worried about the effect the impact of a rocket may have on the moon if one hits it, and one is liable to if they keep shooting in that direction. It's sort of like a woman who talks all the time. Sooner or later she's bound to say something accurate.

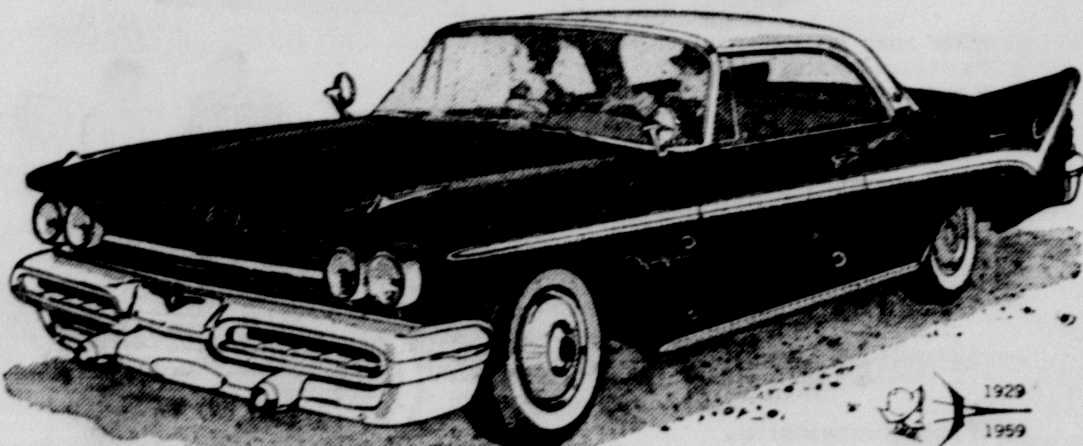

But it's not the shock of a rocket hitting the moon that concerns me. As I see it, if we reach it, sooner or later we'll land some people there, and then later on somebody will want to bring in a car, and if we get as many as two up there, they're bound sooner or later to hit head-on. If the moon can't stand sudden impacts, it's doomed.

In fact, come to think of it, if we want to avoid contaminating the moon completely, we'd better not land any people there at all.

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

Taxes, Schools Lead Prelegislative Debate

By Vera Sanford

Texas Press Association
AUSTIN, Tex.—Austin is up to its ears in opinions and pronouncements as the pre-legislative debate of state issues blows through the city.

Taxes and schools are leading topics.

Committees, study groups and associations, both public and private, come to town, hold a meeting, hear speakers and, usually, pass some recommendations. They are part of the sifting, sounding out and solidifying of thinking that precedes a legislative session.

ON SECOND THOUGHT

Hale Aikin Committee recommended and reversed its previous stand that Texas schools should not take federal aid for lunch rooms and vocational education.

New statement, passed 11 to 8, was offered by Ed Ray, San Antonio Express News editor. It affirmed the committee's belief in state control of education but said it did not feel this would be lost by accepting federal aid for lunches, vocational education and for large numbers of children brought into a district by federal activities.

It also endorsed the desirability of the federally-financed activities covered by the National Defense Education Act.

Hale-Aikin Committee of 14 lawmakers, educators and other citizens was set up by the Legislature to advise it on public school needs and problems. Some six weeks ago it stirred up a hornet's nest by recommending that Texas quit accepting several million dollars a year in federal school aid.

Arguments, pro and con, flared over the state, and many legislatures were rendered uncomfortable by the necessity to take a stand. In many cases, the lawmakers' disapproval of federal centralization in principal put were hesitant to get in a position where they might be accused of taking milk from the school kids.

Hale-Aikin Committee also gave final approval to a recommended program of public school improvements. It would raise school costs by about $112,000,000 a year—mostly for teacher salary raises, sick leave, building upkeep and transportation.

CALLS FOR BIG TAX

A meeting of the Texas Association of School Boards was the sounding board for more ideas on school financing.

Only a state income tax or general sales tax can produce enough revenue to cover school program improvements, a spokesman for the Texas State Teachers Association told the meeting.

TSTA-man L. P. Sturgeon said other taxes proposed thus far would hardly get the state treasury out of the hole, let alone cover new needs.

School Board members also heard Dr. B. F. Pittenger, one-time dean of the University of Texas College of Education, say he had felt for 30 years that public schools need "considerable amount of federal aid."

Also urged by Dr. Pittenger: more discipline in schools, more attention to students "most highly endowed with brains."

NO FAT, THEY SAY

Gov. Price Daniel's request that state department heads try to pare down their budget requests for the next two years brought no dramatic tax-saving slashes.

General reaction of the department heads was that they were already being as economical as they could be and still maintain the services expected of them.

Altogether the requests totaled $225,000,000 more than is being spent during the present two-year period. But some are, indeed, "not costable" under present law. Biggest increase—$90,000,000—is for public schools whose costs go up automatically with the number of students. Similar unavoidable increases occur in welfare, highway and retirement costs.

In other areas, department heads declare there is "no fat" in their budgets.

FORMULA FOR COLLEGES

Commission on Higher Education has adopted two major policies on division of studies and funds among the state's 18 colleges and universities.

One is a plan for study program which concentrates graduate study especially for Ph.D.s, at Texas A & M and the University of Texas. Other is a formula for asking for appropriations based on the number of semester hours taught.

Officials of UT, A&M and Texas Tech did not oppose the money formula, but indicated they would need additional funds to maintain desired standards of quality.

IT'S A LONG STORY

More insurance legislation and, possibly, more grand jury action may result from the reports of the Senate Investigating Committee.

Sen. Charles Herring, chairman, released the first of five reports on the committee's findings. It dealt with the means by which IGT Insurance Co. rose and fell. Herring said testimony suggested that some people not indicted should be called before grand juries. There was, he said, conflicting testimony, under oath, indicating perjury.

Recommendations for new legislation are to be included in the last report, due in December. Testimony on which the reports are based totaled 4,000,000 words, enough to fill 40 long books. This may not be all since the committee is to meet again in November.

Panel members, in addition to Herring, are Sens. Grady Hanzelwood of Amarillo, Jarrard Secret of Temple, Culp Krueger of El Campo and Frank Owen III of El Paso.

Sometimes on a quiet street of a sequestered village, one can sense the tranquility of yesteryear's simple life and sturdy virtues. Today's pace is faster, its problems more complex, but the tranquility of the church, your church, does much to offset the trials of our satellite age.

MILAM COUNTY'S FARM SCENE

1 Plus 1 Plus 3 Years 400 Million Rodents

By J. D. Moore,
County Agent

Why so many rats — The most apparent reason for there being so many of these rodents is because of the shortage of predatory animals.

This would be hawks, owls, snakes, and larger predators such as skunks, fox and coyotes. Too, things such as food and shelter have been near ideal. Another factor is the reproductive capabilities. The female rat can bear young when only three months old. The gestation period is about four weeks, with four to 10 little ones in each litter. She will have up to 10 litters each year.

This means that one female rat can be directly responsible for 100 rats per year. Then consider her offspring which will be rearing families before the year is out; also her grandchildren. In fact, rats multiply so fast that one pair can conceivably result in a population of 400,000,000 in only three years. This sounds bad enough, but her smaller cousin, Mrs. mouse, can win hands down in the population contest. Her life is fast and furious; very few live to be a year old.

A female mouse can, in the course of a year, produce as many as 17 litters of young. She mates first when less than a month old. Her litter of five to nine is born three weeks later and all of them together weigh less than an ounce. They gain fast and within a few days they've gone from the nest and swing full tilt into the mouse-town routine. Their mother already is well on the way toward town routine. Their mother already is well on the way toward her next family. Within a couple of hours after birth of her first litter, she has mated again.

Where do they all come from? Well, it's obvious that only a few rats and mice were needed to start. How do we get rid of them? One way is to wait for those natural enemies, the predators, build up in numbers. That would be nature's way. You can always depend on nature if you have time and patience. Then there is also disease, which, when it comes, usually does a good job of thinning out the population.

If you cannot wait for this to happen, then you will need to do the eradicating yourself. You will need to get your neighbor to join with you, and your neighbor's neighbor, and so on down the line in order to do a good job.

Remember, they raise fast and while you are doing the eradicating, whether with cats, traps, poison, or a club, do not forget to clean up the premises. A clean place means a healthier one with fewer rodents.

Communities should stage a rat eradication campaign, give it lots of publicity, make bait available, and everyone join hands to fight the infestation.

The anti-coagulant type of bait is recommended by the rodent control service. Individuals will find this bait effective if a good supply is kept out at all times.

The local county agent will assist any community with an eradication program.

Cotton Producer Asked To Watch Seed Situation

College Station, Oct. 22—A continuation of the unfavorable weather could mean trouble so far as saving high quality planting seed from this year's cotton crop is concerned, warns Fred C. Elliott, extension cotton specialist.

In some sections, he says, cotton harvesting conditions are even worse than those of a year ago. Excessive moisture, cotton root rot and angular leaf spot diseases are contributing to lower quality seed from some areas. An early frost, he adds, could further complicate the situation. Continued high moisture in the field is a cause for high free fatty acid content in the seed and this lowers germination. Good weather, however, could change the picture and seed from even late plantings would be of good quality, he says.

Elliott advises that sufficient quantities of good quality seed of known varieties be saved and carefully stored. A continuing check of seed in storage is suggested. This is one of those seasons, he points out, when even seed with a low moisture content cannot be stored and their keeping quality forgotten until next spring.

Here are Elliott's suggestions for handling the seed situation. Check seed closely by cutting a sample with a knife before storing; store only seed with high germination (80 per cent is very good) and low free fatty acid content; save seed for bulk storage containing less than 12 per cent moisture unless good facilities for drying and cooling are available; small quantities of seed should be turned and sacked and large quantities for bulk storage should be cured by pulling air through them with a fan and duct system.

USDA research shows that a moisture content of 13.6 per cent is the critical point beyond which storage may quickly become disastrous, says Elliott. The moisture content in all stored seed, if possible, should be brought down to 10 or 11 per cent. Air should be pulled through the seed only during daylight hours and in fair weather with the hours between 10 a.m. and 4 p.m. as the preferred period.

Local county agents should be contacted for more detailed information, suggests Elliott.

Baby Tigers Latest Addition to Miller Bros. World's Largest Menagerie Coming FRIDAY, OCTOBER 24th.

Beauty, (Miss Marlyn Medina) and the little beasts—the most recent acquisitions to the enormous traveling zoo of Al G. Kelly and Miller Bros. largest Circus, two baby tigers named Joplin and Paris, named in honor of the two cities in which they were born, respectively Joplin, Missouri, and Paris, Texas, during the first week of this year's tour. Coincidentally the mother is named "Paris", the fact she was a product of "Jungle Imports" in 1946, arriving to begin her circus career at Paris, Tennessee, an engagement stand on that year's itinerary. Traditionally, circus menagerie animals are named after towns in which they were born or received in shipment from the jungles, unless the particular metropolis has a "tongue twister" name. More than 200 rare and unusual beasts and birds grace the block-long menagerie of Al G. Kelly and Miller Bros. Circus scheduled for afternoon and night performances at CAMERON on FRI. OCT. 24th at the NO. HWY. 190 grounds.
